FGR SALE—A railroad quadricycle in good condition; has been used but little. Inquire of loreph Flory, candidate for Governor of Missouri on this Republican ticket, care the Republican State Committee, St. Louis.

Any able-bodied railroad man who desires inspect his machine. If the foregoing adverbecause the Republican State Committee has forbidden it. The quadricycle has been placed on the shelf by the ambitious Mr. Flory, and in its place he has substituted the varnished cars.

The quadricycle was the cause of so much adverse comment that leaders in the Republican party virtually pulled Mr. Flory off his wheel, and now it is resting and rusting in the Terminal Station, while the busy spider spins fantastic webs within its steel spokes. Some time ago Mr. Flory decided upon his unique campaign. He was going over the State on a railroad quad. He was going to keep hot the air along the railroads in the State. He had arranged for his campaign an itinerary that would have taken him over several thousand miles of track and subjected the people to about a thousand repetitions of the same speech he started with in St. Louis last month. The scheme had hardly been thoroughly understood when protests were filed with the Republican State Committee that Flory was making an egregious blunder; that it was more of a vaudeville entertainment for the farmers of the State than a sincere ef-fort to make a political campaign.

Tedious Task Proves Fruitless.
Colonel Flory came down to St. Louis, got bago and fresh air was injected into the tires. The Colonel started out with a lunch basket and a couple of cold bottles on the front of the handle bar. He stered the machine and pedaled down to Carondelet one bright morning about a month ago. He got off at divers and sundry points and re-stocked his larder, incidentally shaking hands with several pedestrians.

The Colonel was disgusted with the first day's run. He returned to Union Station, day's run. He returned to Union Station, tired in limb and dejected in spirits. There had been no brass band accompaniment, and when he explained to a qualified voter that he was a candidate for Governor, riding over the State on a quad in search of votes, he got what would be called, in the vernacular of the street, a "horse laugh." At first it was difficult to understand why his campaign was not taken seriously, but after he Effectually, yet gently, when costive or bil-ious, to permanently overcome habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, to dispel headaches, colds or fevers, use Syrup of Figs, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.—Adv. stick to beaten paths.

The Colonel finally decided to give the thing another whirl. He went clear down to Committee Grew Weary. The Colonel again attempted to explain who he was and what he was doing, but the result was the same as on the day before. His explanations were received with cre-His explanations were received with credulity. The Colonel turned his steed homeward that day. He rode into Union Station tired out. He probably said harsh things inwardly as he rolled the sixty-pound quadinto its resting place. At least he had an elegant opportunity to do so.

Since that memorable day Mr. Flory has traveled some over the State. He has recited his set speech on several different occasions at several different points. He has gone into the suburbs, but he has not gone on his four-wheeled machine. It still rests quietly in the station, while Mr. Flory is flying back and torth on a Pullman sleeper.

The Republican State Committee is breathing easier. It has taken a fresh reach on hope. It is not considering the quadricycle at any length. The machine in Union Station may rest and rust so far as the State Committee is concerned. It is satisfied if no more quadricycles were manufactured. In a few days Mr. Flory's itinerary will be thrown to the breeze. It probably will be found on close inspection that in order to make dates nothing slower than an express train can carry the gubernatorial candidate. The Colonel turned his steed home

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 5.-Tennessee's United States senatorial race, which has been on in full blast with the oratorical features for the past two months, is about to come to a sudden close. A couple of weeks ago Governor Benton McMillin dropped out of the race for the sake of harmony in the State, leaving the contest to Congressman Carmack from the Tenth District and Chief Justice Snodgrass of the Supreme Court, The best part of McMillin's strength went to Cormack to Carmack.

Up to date Judge Snodgrass, who is a Democrat, but running on an expansion platform and telling the people to vote for Bryan, has not received a single instructed vote. At the Carmack headquarters to-day the following statement was given out by one of the campaign managers. one of the campaign managers:

"We calculate that it will take about fifty votes to control the next senatorial caucus, though forty-five was enough when Thomas B. Turley was nominated. Mr. Carmack now has forty-three pledged and instructed votes, thirty-five of them being instructed. We will certainly get ten more votes, which have already ordered nominations during the present month. By the first of September Mr. Carmack will have about fifty-three votes, or easily enough to make his cailing and election sure, even if no other nominations are ordered for the rhonth of August. In addition to this there will still be eight members of the Legislature from West Tennessee, four of them from Mr. Carmack's congressional district, all of whom will be for Carmack without any opposition whatever. There are a number of Middle Tennessee counties also in which he has had no opposition, as in Maury and Lawrence, which are yet to fix the time for nominating their candidates. We confidently expect that Mr. Carmack will have seventy votes before the month of September has passed away. There are about twenty votes, including Davidson County (Nashville), that are to be instructed on the day of the November election. We have no doubt but that we shall receive every one of them—in fact, we believe that Mr. Carmack will have practically the solid vote of the Democrats in the next Democratic caucus." one of the campaign managers:
"We calculate that it will take about fifty the Democrats in the next Democratic caucus."

There have been rumors of a withdrawal on the part of Judge Snodgrass, but he says he will stay in the race until the end. The friends of the Chief Justice will make a fight for a general United States senatorial primary over the State before the meeting of the Tennessee Democratic Executive Committee in this city next Saturday. The Carmack people claim that the committee has no right to order a primary of this character. They oppose on the ground that they have won their fight and it would be a hardship to be forced to fight a second battle. Snodgrass did not mention the senatorial primary until a week or so ago, and for this reason it is believed that a majority of the members will look upon the proposition with disfavor.

The Seventh District is under the command of Captain Creecy, and the Ninth under the command of Captain Gaffney. As soon as the orders were received by them early yesterday morning they were transmitted to the patrolmen at roll call, and within an hour the officers of the day plateons in each district had reported in their new districts for duty.

The rearrangement was accepted by the nen with little comment and less grumbiling, as the patrolmen, while ignorant of the causes which prompted the shifting of berths, believed that the change is only temporary. As in the case of the Flith, Sixth, Second and Third districts, the Captains, Lieutenants and clerical forces of the Seventh and Ninth districts will not be affected by the change.

The men engaged in these outrages, I figured, know the ways and habits of the uniformed know the ways and habits of the uniformed patrolmen and special officers in their districts, and it is an easy matter for them to do the work and evade the officers with imdo the work and evade the officers with impunity. By introducing strange men into these districts, with whose faces and habits the dynamitards are unfamiliar, we will be able to at least prevent the offenders from operating so boldly, if we are unable to catch them in the act. But for the timely action of Daniel F. Murphy of No. 1229 North Ninth street, it is probable that William Fierke, 12 years old, of No. 1239 North Ninth, and Ell Shaerman, 4 years old, of No. 1234 North Ninth, would not be alive to-day. The two boys had grasped an overhead cable, and had been lifted, when it was raised forty feet in the air. Murphy saw what was happening, procured a coverlet from a bed, and into this, when it was held by a dozen willing hands, both the lads dropped Each came out uninjured, though it seemed for a moment as if neither could escape with life.

Yesterday morning a number of boys were playing on Ninth, between Biddle and O'Fallon streets. A heavy cable was being strung by the Bell Telephone Company along Ninth street, and near the boys' homes, it hung loose within four feet of the ground. The boys soon perceived the opportunity for amusement offered by the wire, and they used it as a turnbar. It was stiff and strong, and served well for this

The heavy bed cover was grasped by a score of hands, and soon was stretched out beneath the boys, like an improvised life net. It was none too soon, for young Shaerman's strength was exhausted, his weight, and he fell. His body struck the blanket and rebounded slightly, and the child, though greatly frightened, was un-injured by the long fall.

Fierke would not let go for some time. Despite the cries of the crowd urging him to drop, he appeared numbed with fright. While he remained dangling in midair a fire engine arrived, but the firemen could not get their nets out in time for use, Fin-ally Fierke's strength also gave out, and his body shot downward into the bed cover. When the two boys were safe on solid ground they were each grasped in the arms of their respective mothers and hugged as as they had probably never been hugged before. Murphy, too, and the various men who had helped save the boys, received the hearty thanks of the parents of the children. A fitting end to the thrilling scene were the three mighty cheers, lifted by the When the hubbub began Murphy was in crowd assembled, in honor of Murphy.

COUPLE FOUND DEAD.

Theory of Mutual Suicide or Murder and Suicide.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 5.-Robert W. Sinclair, aged 51 years, a fruit commission merchant in this city, and his wife, Annie E., aged 32 years, were both found dead last night with a bullet hole in each of their heads in the garden in front of their summer home at Green Tree Station on the Pennsylvania Railroad near this city. Whether it was a case of mutual suicide or murder and suicide will probably never be known.

The couple had frequently quarreled, and some time ago separated. Last week the wife returned to her husband's house. Sinclair and his wife each carried a pistol. For what reason no one could ever find out. Last night as the husband reached home and was entering the gate neighbors heard him exclaim: "Don't shoot!" and a few seconds later two shots in quick ruccession were heard. Several of the neighbors rushed into the garden and in the darkness found Mrs. Sinclair iying dead. Close by her head was her husband's revolver. The husband was lying a few feet away, and died in a few minutes without regaining consciousness. The wife's pistol, a small weapon, was found about three feet from her body.

The police authorities of Chester County made every effort to-day to unravel the mystery. There are three theories as to how the tragedy occurred. One is that they agreed on mutual suicide; second, that both fired at the other in a duel, and third, that the wife killed the husband with her pistol, threw it near his body and then took her own life v_fh his revolver. The police are inclined to the belief that the last theory is the correct one. The couple had frequently quarreled, and Topeka, Kas., Aug. 5 .- Dudley Township, Haskell County, easily takes first premium on freak marriage contracts. On the result of the election in that township this year hangs the fate of James Bradley and Wills Wilkinson, two sultors for the hand and heart of Miss Mary Kincaid. A letter from that county to-day says Miss Kincaid will marry the young man who carries that township for his candidate for President, and the defeated sultor is to act as best man at the wedding on November 7.

In 1896, the only township in the United States carried by Palmer and Buckner, Gold Democratic nominees for President and Vice President, was Dudley Township, Haskell County. Six votes were cast in the township at the election, Palmer and Buckner, ereceiving 3, McKinley and Hobart 2, and Bryan and Sewell 1.

When Colonel Buckner heard of it, he proceeded to show his appreciation by sending a two-gallon demijohn full of Kentucky bourbon and a 550 bill to the people of that township, with the injunction that they assemble in a convenient place and eat, drink and be merry. They met in the schoolhouse and all had a good time.

There is no Gold Democratic ticket in the field. One, and probably two, of the Palmer and Buckner voters are counted for Bryan, the other for McKinley. Bradley is a Republican and Wikinson is a Democrat. Two new voters moved into the township, but their politics are unknown. of the election in that township this year Union Station.

STABBED BY HIS STEPSON. Family Quarrel Ended Seriously

for James Lamb.

James Lamb, a laborer, living at No. 1495 North Eighth street, was taken to the City Hospital yesterday afternoon suffering from injuries received in a fight with ing from injuries received in a fight with his stepson, William O'Brien, who also lives at the North Eighth street address. Lamb married Mrs. O'Brien, mother of the young man with whom he had the trouble, about a year ago. He ciaimed that young O'Brien considered that marriage with his mother was equivalent to marriage with the rest of the family so far as supporting them was concerned, and he settled down for a life of luxurious ease, Lamb claims he took exception to this, and
